

Unfortunately, I have had numerous opportunities to observe arguments and, once in a while, near fights breaking out over impolite cell phone use in public places. It is bad enough when this happens in a restaurant or waiting room, but on an airplane, it could lead to danger. For passenger safety, cell phone use should not be permitted while in route.

Thank you.